

【Product Name】

Injectable Poly-L-Lactic Acid

【Product Introduction】

The product achieves facial rejuvenation by stimulating a subclinical inflammatory response and promoting collagen production in the dermis, gradually improving skin thickness and elasticity. Unlike traditional fillers, poly-L-lactic acid not only plumps up the face, but also improves the quality of skin by promoting the skin's own repair process. It is commonly used to restore facial areas that have lost volume due to aging.
