

【Product Name】

Medical Collagen-Hydroxyapatite Artificial Bone

【Product Introduction】

The product is a composite material composed of orderly arranged type I collagen and nanoscale hydroxyapatite (HA), which is highly similar to the composition and microstructure of natural bone matrix, making it a bionic bone product close to an autologous bone. It has good Biocompatibility and biological activity, as well as good guiding bone regeneration activity to guide bone defect repair and accelerate bone healing process.