

【Product Name】

Pulmonary Nodule Diagnostic Support Software

【Product Introduction】

The product usually consists of a software installation disc (or an installation program downloaded from the internet). It is used for displaying, processing, measuring and analysing chest CT images, and can automatically identify pulmonary nodules of 4mm and above. It is used by trained physicians and can't be used alone as a basis for clinical diagnosis and treatment decisions.